OR THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN DRINKERS. Yesterday morning, like Caius Marius mourning amidst the ruins of Carthage, Tom Johnson, with his hart full of gloom and his head full of the fumes of a week's frolicking, sat biting his nails in front of the Recorder's office. Presently he was tapped on the shoulder by a very squabby man with a very broad-skirted coat, and a countenance that seemed to say, "Lord! ain't I appy!" With a face cadaverous with woe, Tom Johnson said, slowly, " William Jones, you are too familiar; recal lect where you are, sir."

"Well, and don't you 'spose I do kr where I am? Why, you ain't had no litters this mornin' I reckon, for your face looks as solemn as a tombstone with a werry old eppytaff on it." "Jones, I am brooding over my woes!"

"Tom Johnson, now you take my advice -never brood over your woes-woes is eggs which, when hatched, perduces some of the d-dest bantamlegged, red-eyed chickens that

"What would you have me do? I am a miserable man-my money's gone, my credit's gone, and ah! there's a something that tells me I, too, shortly shall be gone."

"All the fault of bad licker." "Liquor!-do not name the poisonous

"What is it? Not brand-" "No, not brandy-whiskey's a better medicine. You're an excited man, jist from the country-never been on a bender, and its necessary you should be a leetle strung up afore I commence to philosophyze. Take a swig at this-there-I know'd you'd like it." "Thanks-I feel better-but those crimson animals you were speaking of-they belong 2 tice and in the neatest manner. to what family? what genius?"

"Don't be so fast-they belongs to most families, and is the particler property of all people of genius. The disease, like every thing else in this world, has too sides. There's the blue devils and red monkeys, and a host of smaller fry, sich as spiders, snakes, and other reptiles, but the devils and the monkeys is the roots of the disease which I must, like a good doctor, strike at in the first place." "Well, my dear Jones, go on-get through soon, please, for I feel very strange."

"Very nateral you should feel strangebut now I'm agoin' to commence. Poor people is werry much attached to the blue devils, but the red monkeys belong to the rich : blue devils is domocratic-red monkeys arrerstockratic. The next mornin' he woke up with a cold shivver, and saw a long somethin' crawlin' right over his breast. Like lightnin' he jumped out of bed, and there, right over the wash-bowl, sat a tall red monkey, looking at him werry seriously. Down stairs he went and told the landlord, who went up and saw the young man's red flannel drawers on the wash-stand, and found that the snake was nothin' but his suspenders?" AN INTERESTING REMINISCENCE.-The Montreal Courier, in mentioning the fact that the removed from that city to Halifax, gives the them at following interesting reminiscence:

"There is an interesting fact connected with this corps which is probably new to some of our readers. There has been for upwards of a century a Free Mason Lodge in the 46th. ONSIGNEES and owners of Goods, coming by any of the Packets consigned to my adthe revolutionary war. The register of this responsible for any goods after being landed. lodge contains Washington's signature in his own hand writing, and still possesses the Bible on which the great man took the oath of iniregalia of the lodge was captured by the Americans during the war, and taken to Washing. kegs. For sale low, at ton; but when it was discovered what it contained, it was immediately sent back. It underwent a similar fate some years after, being taken by the French at St. Lucia. It was then carried to Paris and its contents being examined, was immediately returned to the regiment by the French authorities. We believe a detail of these facts, with the dates and full particulars, is to be found in the Free Mason's Magazine of a few years back."
